Paragraph to copy:

Elsa was on a mission to finish her Genius Hour Project and was quite attentive to her deadline. She was responsive to her partner, but he had a misconception about how mountains are formed. Unintentionally, he wrote the incorrect facts on their presentation board. In an opinionated tone a student stated, "You are wrong on your facts!"

Elsa noticed this complication and stated, "We will take action on our project. But we appreciate when you speak to us in a kind way."
